WEBINAR

REGISTER TODAY

careers in improving hispanic health 9.17.2013 4:00-5:00PM

panelists
Shannon P. Márquez, PhD, MEng, Associate Dean, Academic Affairs, Drexel University School of Public Health (moderator)

Beatriz Tapia, MD, MPH, Associate Faculty, University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio

Augusta Villanueva, PhD, Associate Professor, Drexel University School of Public Health

Maria Luisa Zuniga, PhD, Associate Professor, University of California, San Diego, School of Medicine

goals
Connecting undergraduate and graduate students with public health professionals Opportunities to learn more about careers in Hispanic health and health disparities agenda topics

Career advice and progression tips, important skills, rewards and challenges audience

Public health professionals, undergraduate and graduate students interested in Hispanic health and health disparities

publichealth.drexel.edu/hispanichealth

FOR MORE INFORMATION KMORAN@DREXEL.EDU

Shannon P. Márquez, PhD, MEng, Associate Dean, Academic Affairs, Drexel University School of Public Health (moderator)

Beatriz Tapia, MD, MPH, Associate Faculty, University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio

Augusta Villanueva, PhD, Associate Professor, Drexel University School of Public Health

Maria Luisa Zuniga, PhD, Associate Professor, University of California, San Diego, School of Medicine