Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the US Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) - Public Health Internship Program
Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the US Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) is seeking applicants for the Public Health Internship Program. The public health internships at HRSA is an unfunded practicum experience for graduate and undergraduate students in good standing at schools of public health and public health programs in the United States. The HRSA Public Health internship provides an unparalleled opportunity for professional growth and development as a public health practitioner and will prepare the intern to be an ambassador for the important work of HRSA in his/her professional discipline, work setting, or community. The intern will have frequent contact with HRSA's public health experts in one of a wide-range of disciplines including (to name just a few): rural health policy, HIV/AIDS, maternal and child health, health systems, and program analysis and evaluation. Learn more here.

NIH/NMA Travel Awards Program for Residents and Fellows
The National Institutes of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases (NIDDK) in collaboration with the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health & Human Development (NICHD), the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI), and the Office of Research on Women's Health (ORWH) of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the National Medical Association (NMA) are pleased to announce the 2013 NIH-NMA Travel Awards Program. The program provides an opportunity for selected residents and fellows, who are interested in careers in academic medicine, to attend the NMA Annual Convention and Scientific Assembly. This year's Convention will take place in Toronto, Ontario, Canada from July 27 to July 31, 2013. Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: April 15, 2013

The TEDMED 2013 Front Line Scholarship Program
An essential part of TEDMED's mission is assembling a diverse mix of individuals, each with an important perspective on new ideas, trends, treatments or technologies that can contribute to health and medicine. These individuals become our Delegates at TEDMED. TEDMED is now looking for innovators and collaborators from across society - whether from health, medicine, technology or not - to participate in an inclusive conversation about how to achieve a healthier future. Detailed information about TEDMED, including online application form is available here.
